FRANKFORT. AUGUST 20, 1887.

The people of Frankfort should not rest content with the assured success of the P., G. & F. railroad, but should give encouragement to any and all enterprises that will add to the material wealth of the community.

There is no reason why we should not have a large tobacco warehouse or houses located here. We are in the very midst of the tobacco growing section, and immense quantities are being shipped elsewhere every year that, of right, ought to find a legitimate market

Let every encouragement be given to the tobacco factories already here, and invite still further investment in that direction.

Another very important industry, that would be peculiarly well suited to this locality, is a furniture manufactory. The lumber to manufacture into furniture is being bought up and shipped elsewhere ty met on Monday to consider the in the rough, and is then returned question of submitting a proposito us as finished work.

Awake and arouse, dear friends, to the possibilities that the womb of the future holds in reservation for such an energetic and live people as we ought to be and can come if we will only try.

Judge Wm. Lindsay has been interviewed, in Louisville, in regard to the prospects of the P., G. & F. railroad. The Judge is highly elated at the triumphant manner in which the subscription carried in this and Bourbon counties. He is reported as saying that this road opens up to the people of Louisville and central Kentucky the most available outlet to the coal fields, lumber district and iron mining region of any in the State. The wealth that will be brought out on its line will be almost unlimited. The capitalists of Louisville to use

The man Ritchie, who obtained valuable trotting horses from Col. Pepper on forged letters of credit, escaped from the sheriff of Crawford county, Mo., while en route to this city to be tried for his rascality. A reward will probably be offered for his arrest and delivery to the jailer of this county.

Mourney seemed paralyzed with fear, after he had committed the act, and, in place of going out of town ran down the hill into town, and right into the clutches of officers Hyde, Griffin and Stephens, who lodged him in jail.

Mourney is represented to be a tough citizen, having had one or two shooting scrapes heretofore. This case, it is hoped, will about wind up his shooting career.

Dr. Hume was called in and extracted the ball from the woman's

Our parched and blistered fields, gardens and pastures are now resuscitated and all nature puts on a broad smile of delight. "Bless the Lord for His goodness."

Mr. Albert Jeffers had the misfortune to have his slaughterhouse (situated two miles from the city on the Versailles pike), struck by lightning, during the thunder-storm on Monday morn-Judge urged the merchants and ing at 4 o'clock, and it, together with the packing-house and smoketheir influence to foster this road, house, containing 600 hams, were totally consumed, entailing a loss of about $1,700, which was partially insured. We regret exceedingly to chronicle this loss, as Mr. Jeffers is one of our most enterprising, energetic and worthy young business men.

We are glad to note that the amount required to be raised in order to keep the College at Georgetown ($25,000) has been successfully accomplished, and the good people of our sister city can now congratulate themselves on the fact that this old and honored institution will remain with Councilman Richard Ferguson them. Cholera Cure!

Thousands of dollars worth of chickens die every year from Cholera. It is more fatal to chickens than all other diseases combined. But the discovery of a remedy that positively cures it has been made, and to be convinced of its efficacy only requires a trial. A 50-cents bottle is enough for one hundred chickens. It is guaranteed. If, after using two-thirds of a bottle, the buyer is not thoroughly satisfied with it as a cure for Chicken Cholera, return it to the undersigned and your money will be refunded.
